

October 1st

Righteous Father Romanos the Melodist

Stichera at "O Lord, I have cried"

Byzantine Chant Tone 1

Special Melody: Thou art the joy

1) The skilled com - pos - er of mu - sic and the Di - vine
2) That bright and far - shin - ing lamp, — thē au - gust and
3) As thou now stand - est be - fore — God, the Sov - 'reign

Spir - it's lyre, the night - in - gale — and crick - et ev - er lyr - ic harp, the string that played the gra - cious or - a - Lord — of all, and since thou hast — great bold - ness in His sing - ing di - vine songs, the reed - pipe of the Church and its

-cles of the Spir - it, clear - ly now doth sing his me - pre - sence, O Fa - ther, re - mem - ber us who keep this thy fair - sound - ing flute doth pre - sent — to us all to - day

- lo - di - ous songs, teach - ing all — re - gions of thē earth ra - di - ant feast, and en - treat — Him to res - cue us his sweet, me - lo - di - ous strains, and by means there - of to of - fer glo - ry and praise — in un - ceas - ing hymns from all temp - ta - tions and per - ils and suf - fer - ings, he doth glad - den them of god - ly mind.

to the God - head's sin - gle ra - di - ance.
right - eous Ro - man - os, most blest — of God.