

November 9th

Nektarios of Aegina and Pentapolis, the Wonderworker

Byzantine Chant Tone 1

Stichera at "O Lord, I have cried"-1st Set

Special Melody: O strange wonder

1) O stranger won - der! In these lat - ter times, blaz - ing bright with
2) Great, O Sav - ior, is Thy prov - i - dence! For as Thou hast 3) All the faith - ful form a choir to - day, filled with joy and splen - dor, thē all - wise Nek - tar - i - os hath shone out up - on the prom - ised, with the gift of mir - a - cles hast Thou glo - ri - fied Nek - glad - ness on thy shin - ing fes - ti - val, O sa - cred Nek - tar - i - world like a most bril - liant lamp, while mak - ing the

- tar - i - os as Thy true friend, who glo - ri - fied
- os, ex - toll - ing thee with hymns. In sol - emn and faith - ful shine with the di - vine Gos - pel's sav - ing and guid - ing light Thee on earth by his il - lus - tri - ous life, clear - ly show - ing all mys - tic dance, the Church of Christ doth ex - ult in her cham - pi - on, by means of his god - ly words, his blame - less con - duct, and the pow - er of love for Thee, and how it lift - ed a who rose up in these last times an in - de - struc - ti - ble

God - pleas - ing way of life. For this cause, the Ho - ly Spir - it man to the heights by grace. Where - fore by his in - ter - ces - sions pil - lar and ground of truth. And we cry to Christ our Sav - ior glo - ri - fied him might - i - ly, and he free - ly doth heal all grant for - give - ness of our sins and Thy peace, which is per - fect, Won - drous is Thy love for man, for Thou giv - est Thy ser - vant who in - voke him with un - doubt - ing faith. un - to us, Thou Who art more than good.

as a com - fort - er in all our griefs.